all are served. Prices 10 cents. The prices for this and the harvest supper are put very low so that whole families may easily find attendance within range of their means.

The ladies of the Women's Home Missionary society meet at the church parlors Wednesday afternoon to pack a box for the Deaconess Home at Boston. Suitable clothing for children, bedding, etc. can be used, and it is expected that whatever will be brought will be of great service to those to whom it is sent.

On Friday of this week the Ladies' Aid society will give its annual harvest dinner, beginning the dinner at 11:30 o'clock and continuing until all are served. An attractive menu has been prepared, and no pains will be spared to make the occasion a success. The men at the mill are invited to come in their working clothes, and will find a chance to wash. Prices: 20 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Next Sunday morning service will be observed as "Old Folks' Sunday." Special oldtime hymns will be sung, the sermon will be adapted to the occasion, and every effort will be made to render the service one of unusual interest. If any elderly people would like to attend and cannot walk to the church, if they will notify the pastor he will endeavor to arrange for teams to carry them to and fro. Needless to say, everybody else, as well as the particular class for whom the service is held, is cordially invited.
